Your trustees in reporting the investments have placed the same value on the stocks as was placed upon them when the executors of Mr. Parker's estate turned them over to the trustees of the fund. The present market value, however, with a single exception is less than at that time. The Boston & Maine R. R. stocks very much less. The Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern R. R. bonds, and the Hudson River Electric Power Co. bonds were placed in the hands of a bond holding committee prior to Mr. Parker's death. As we understand one or both of these companies have been placed in the hands of a receiver. There has been some sort of a re-organization. We hope ultimately to get something from these bonds, but the chances are not very good.

As a matter of convenience we have inventoried the municipal bonds at their par value, with the exception of the village of Springfield, 3 per cent bond.

To the Taxpayers of the Town of Springfield:

The undersigned, town auditors, respectfully report that they have examined the various accounts presented in this report of the town officers and find the items of receipts and disbursements are as stated. The auditors present herewith as a matter of information and comparison, a tabulated schedule of receipts and expenditures for the years 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914, and a statement of the outstanding indebtedness since the year 1900.

It will be noted that our receipts are generally sufficient to enable the town to pay a considerable sum on the outstanding indebtedness after payment of running expense in each year in which there are no extraordinary expenses. If by a budget or otherwise, these extraordinary expenses might be taken into consideration in fixing the tax the town could gradually reduce its outstanding indebtedness. No extraordinary expenditures seem necessary in any department for the coming year and your auditors therefore recommend no change in the tax for the coming year.

Librarian's Report, 1914.

To the Trustees of the Springfield Town Library, and to the Public:—

The library contained 8641 volumes on Jan. 1, 1914, and 528 volumes were added during the year, of which 490 were purchased, 20 were gifts, and 18 were acquired from the Pay Collection of duplicate fiction. Four hundred and eighty soiled and worn books were removed from circulation during the year, and of these 119 were second hand books received as a gift in past years from the City Library Association of Springfield, Mass. The records show that these second hand books have been loaned an average of 16 times, ranging from three to 95 times. The records show that our own discarded books have been loaned an average of 151 times, ranging from 29 to 300 times. The catalogues show 8689 books listed on Jan. 1, 1915. Two hundred and forty-seven cards were issued to new patrons.

Fifty-one thousand and fifty-six books and magazines were loaned in the 306 days on which the library was open, an average of 167 per day. The largest day's circulation was 401 on February 7, and the smallest 57 on August 20.

Of these, 15711 were juvenile, 1124 were pay fiction, 3292 were sent to North Springfield and 951 to West Springfield. The year's circulation was the largest in our history, being a gain of 2290 over last year, and 921 over the year 1913, our former banner year.

The following tables taken from the 1914 report of the Vermont Library Commission may be of interest to some of the townspeople as it shows that in 1913 our Library with its 8641 books, in a town of not 5000 people, stood fifth in the state in regard to the number of books circulated:

Towns	Number of Volumes	Circu- lation	Popu- lation	Annual Income
Burlington	40,000	82,500	20,468	$5711.08
Montpelier	28,080	67,190	7,856	8000.00
Rutland	19,637	66,534	13,546	4900.00
Barre	10,672	62,705	10,734	Not stated
Springfield	8,641	48,766	4,484	*
Brattleboro	20,594	46,590	7,541	3000.00
Bennington	6,888	34,096	6,211	2130.00
Bellows Falls	11,000	25,207	6,207	2000.00

* • $1200.00 from town

600.00 interest on funds and gifts

$1800.00 Total annual income

This table shows the number of books in our library, and our annual income to be the smallest of the towns cited. Should this be so?

Our library is in urgent need of more money to buy new books to replace those that are wearing out and rebind and keep in repair those which we already have, as well as to keep up the work of the other departments.

The two magazine clubs for people outside the village were maintained as in former years by periodicals from the reading room tables.

In March a Pay Collection of Duplicate Fiction was started to supply the demand for current fiction as the library could not afford to buy many duplicate copies of popular works of fiction. The books were loaned for two cents a day and when they had "paid for themselves" or were no longer in great demand, they were put in the free collection. This scheme proved successful and it has been decided to circulate the books at one cent a day this coming year and thus give more people a chance to enjoy the privilege of an early reading. New books are added to this collection from time to time.

An exhibit of wild flowers was started in May and kept up during the summer months. One hundred and twenty-six specimens were contributed and our flower table proved to be a delight as well as an education to a large number of people. We hope to continue this practice each year and plan to have an exhibit of cultivated flowers this year.

The teachers in all the rural schools have used the library during the past year and some of them have taken out books on their "school cards" for circulation among the people of their district, as well as for school use.

The pupils in our public schools and especially the various literary clubs are making an increasing use of the library for reference work. Harper's Encyclopedia of United States History has been added to the reference department.

The plan of opening the library on school days at 12.30 o'clock instead of at one, to accommodate children coming to the village from the outside districts, has been very successful. The library now closes at 6.00 o'clock in the afternoon instead of at 5.30. The evening hours remain the same.

The use of the children's department is increasing. The circulation shows a gain of 3045 over last year. Thirty-four per cent of the children's books circulated were non-fiction and 66 per cent fiction. Some new books were added to this department, and there is need of many more. Over 200 of the children's books were discarded, and there are many more in such bad condition that they should be removed from the shelves. The shortage of funds and the requirements of the children demand that they be kept as long as possible.

I extend my thanks to the trustees of the library, to Mrs. Kendall for her great interest in supplying the wants of the people at North Springfield, also to Miss Eddy for her care of the books at West Springfield; to Mr. Fullam for carrying the books to the west part of the town; to the girls and boys who have assisted in the work at the library; and to each and every one who has helped the cause by the gift of money, books, personal service, or other token of interest and appreciation, thus making my work a pleasant duty.

ELIZABETH M. McCARTHY,
Librarian.

Health Officer's Report.

My period of service as health officer covers about five months and will necessarily be somewhat brief as there are some things that I have not looked into as fully as I would like in order to make a satisfactory report, but shall endeavor to do so before another year and make a more detailed report. Improvements have been made in some of the school buildings especially the Gill school house which is now in very good condition, also, the school building at Goulds Mills has had improvements which make the building much more satisfactory and comfortable. The building at Pleasant Valley is a new building and very satisfactory. The high school and primary buildings are in good condition but more room is needed for some grades and some changes are contemplated which it will be necessary to have before very long. The North Springfield building is another one comparatively new, and also in good condition. Of the others, some I have seen, and some of them have not been used a whole or part of the year.

There have been very few cases of contagious diseases reported since my appointment, a few scattering ones of mumps, chicken pox and German measles, and one case of diphtheria; none of them prevailing as an epidemic. I would impress upon parents and teachers the importance of carefully looking after all children of school age and take all possible precaution to avoid an epidemic of any kind so far as lies in their power. The causes of death since my appointment have been about as follows: Paralysis of some kind in eight cases, tuberculosis in two, pneumonia three, heart disease four, Brights' disease four, and one each of blood poison, anemia, gangrene and cancer.

Health Officer.
